A dog at Buckley, W. Va., swallowed a man's $300 diamond ring. After much parleying with the negro owner the dog was bought for $10 and a profitable diamond mine opened in his stomach.

Urey Woodson is back from New York and again defies the action of the State convention that elected Gen. W. B. Haldeman to succeed him as national committeeman. He claims to stand in with the committee and to be sure of holding the place. In an open letter to Mr. Watterson he is quite discourteous, which does not help his case.

Border Outbreak Movement Investigated by U. S. Military Authorities.

CARRANZA CIRCULAR FOUND

Situation Remains Quiet, With Troops Guarding All Railroad Bridges.

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 8.—Evidence of a widespread conspiracy among Mexicans on both sides of the Rio Grande to overthrow American authority along the Texas-Mexican boundary was discovered today by state and federal authorities investigating the recent border outbreak. One circular, dated October 1, 1914, which was said to have been widely distributed in Texas as well as in Mexico, appealed to Mexicans to "rise in favor of Carranza and independence because, at the rate we are going, we soon will be slaves of the Americans."

The circular promised those answering the call "Money and offices, provided they live at the end of the battles."

The names of the Mexicans who signed the call were not made public. Letters from points in Lower California, indicating that plans for uprising along the border were in progress of formation for more than a year, also were found today. Buttons enclosed in the letters were inscribed, "land and liberty."

The situation along the border today was quiet. All important towns and railroad bridges now are under guard of United States troops.

Report was made to American authorities tonight that two alleged bandit leaders, Aniceto Pizano and Luis de La Rosa, were in Matamoros. Gen. Nafarrete, Carranza commander at Matamoros, has been asked to arrest the men and turn them over to Texas officers.

General Funston will put the region in the hands of the army alone. It is understood the army will devote its forces primarily to guarding the border, leaving the policing work in the interior, except when special troops are needed, to state

SIX MILE CONTRACT

Awarded on Princeton Road To C. D. McQuenry.

FIRST STATE AID ROAD

County to Borrow $10,000 For The Next Ninety Days.

The Fiscal Court on Tuesday awarded to C. D. McQuenry, of Springfield, Tenn., a contract to build six miles of pike starting at a point on the Caldwell county line. He was $300 under the next bidder, there being three bidders. It will join the present pike extending ten miles from this city. The contract price is $24,611.64, and the pike is to be built under the State aid plan. It is the first contract let under this plan in this county. Work is to begin at once and the pike must be completed by June 30 next. The pike will be 12 feet wide with grades practically eliminated and built according to specifications of the county engineer and approved by the government and state departments. It will be built under the joint supervision of the Government, State and county engineers. The next step will be the rebuilding of the ten miles of old pike, and this will be done next year.

The Fiscal Court also appropriated $200 to be used in helping entertain for the Dixie Bee Line Route Inspection Committee while it is in Christian county, September 15 and 16.

A proposition from the citizens of Lafayette and vicinity, to pay two-thirds of the estimated cost of building 3½ miles of gravel road on a cross country road near Lafayette, was received and declined, for the reason that there are no available funds for 1915. The road is to cost about $4,000 and the committee was told that the court would be glad to take the matter up early next year.

It was ordered that a three month loan of $10,000 be negotiated for the county, to meet expenses until the taxes come in by Dec. 1st.

General claims aggregating $1,200, poor house claims $420 and election claims of $345 were allowed.

Operation Revealed Fact That His Appendix Had Ruptured.

Mr. Foster, traveling salesman in this section for the Clements Paper Co., Nashville, recently underwent an operation for appendicitis and his condition is critical. Upon operating the surgeons found that the appendix had ruptured. The doctors do not give much encouragement as to his recovery. Mr. Foster has many friends here who hope that he may pull through.

MORE THAN 300 MEN AND 50 TEAMS

Hopkinsville Business Men Left Their Work and Took Generous Part in The General Road Working Movement--Todd and Trigg Counties Caught Some Spirit.

Yesterday was Road Working Day in three counties—Christian, Todd and Trigg—and enthusiasm was high. In the towns, business men quit work and took part in the movement and in the country practically everybody joined in the work of repairing turnpikes and grading dirt roads.

The Hopkinsville man who is entitled to the fullest meed of praise in working up local strength for the movement is B. D. Hill, secretary of the local Dixie Bee Line Association. He has worked untiringly and the local people finally caught his enthusiasm and made the road working day a big success.

In Christian and Todd county the special incentive is to improve and clean up the roads which are proposed as links in the Dixie Bee Line, but practically every road in the two counties was worked. In Trigg county they have no Dixie Bee Line proposition to work to, but they caught the good roads fever and turned out to a man in every neighborhood.

In Christian a general holiday was proclaimed by municipal officials all along the line. By an early hour the workers reported for duty, the business men meeting the farmers and their help, and everybody able to wield a shovel, drive a team or do anything was on hand. Each worker was expected to provide his own dinner bucket, except on the Clarksville pike, where Judge W. T. Fowler, on the section next to town, provided dinner for all.

There are three routes being advocated in this county for the Dixie Bee Line and so to show no partiality the town people were divided up as nearly equal as possible between these three routes. All people living north of Seventh street aided on the Madisonville road; those living between Thirtieth and Seventh streets helped on the Pembroke road, and those living south of Thirtieth street on the Clarksville pike.

TODD AROUSED.

In Todd county the enthusiasm is equally as great and the people there have not waited so far as the Dixie Bee Line route is concerned. But yesterday was the first organized effort in which everybody participated.

TRIGG IN EARNEST.

Trigg county will take two days at it, yesterday and to-day having been declared holidays for the occasion. So deeply in earnest are the people of that county over the proposition that they prevailed on Judge J. T. Hanbery to adjourn court, the term having begun Monday for those two days, so that the lawyers, court officials and juries might be on hand. Judge Hanbery not only granted this request, but he assured the good roads committee that both he and Commonwealth's Attorney Denny Smith would be out bright and early each morning prepared to do anything they are called on to do.

Having no great highway to work, Trigg county proposes to take two of its most important roads stretching entirely across the county, as the object of their efforts. But the work will not be confined to these, and smaller gangs will be at work in every locality on the roads of their neighborhood. The two trans-county roads are thirty miles long each, so if the activity shouldn't be extended beyond these it would be a total of sixty miles, no significant amount.

But more important than the immediate good efforts upon the roads asm that has been created, of the interest the people of that county are now taking in good roads. Not long ago a bond issue for road purposes was defeated by a big majority and the county has lagged behind in road improvement. But present indications are that it is coming with a rush and proposes to make up for lost time.

AT PEMBROKE.

Great activity was shown at Pembroke. The business houses closed and the town was deserted while everybody lent a hand to put the roads in good condition. Pembroke is the first place to be reached in the county.

In the section next to town, on the Clarksville pike, there were 141 men and 30 teams at work under Judge W. T. Fowler. They were busy cutting down trees on the curves, taking up the boulder rocks and spreading crushed stone, 3 car loads being used for that purpose on the section extending to the rock bridge. Eight carloads more were used on the sections below. The barbecue to feed all of the hands was held at Van Cleave's school house. It was served by the Ladies Book Club of that neighborhood.

On the Nashville pike, under S. L. Cowherd, there were 115 men and about 20 teams, spreading rock, ditching and cleaning up the road.

Tom Overshiner, the Gayola man, sent out trucks loaded with ice-cold drinks on every road, dispensed free of charge. Also barrels of ice water on motor trucks traveled up and down the roads.

Among the town men armed with picks were County Attorney Ira D. Smith, Frank Rives, D. W. Kitchen, B. O. McReynolds, J. H. Pyle, Garner E. Dalton, Envoy Vallier, Dr. P. E. West, Eugene Harrison, John Clements, W. O. King, Bowling Wood, Ernest Pyle, C. E. Harris, J. L. Harpole, M. H. Nelson, Jr., T. C. Clark, J. M. Neblett, M. G. Moore, M. H. Carroll, J. H. Cate, J. D. McGowan, T. J. Baugh, H. E. Locker.

On the Madisonville road J. J. Metcalfe, Joe Johnson and Dr. Wright had a force of 60 men.

The crews held together well for a hot day and a round made at 3 o'clock found 96 men and 16 teams on the Clarksville pike and 87 men and 24 teams on the Nashville pike, on the sections next to town.

Other crews below were doing the same good work. On the Clarksville pike M. A. Mason and W. C. Summers made things hum on the second section.

BUNCH OF LIVE WIRES

Looking After The Reception To The Commissioners Sept. 15.

Friday night the Reception Committee for the Dixie Bee Line Viewing Commission, due here Sept. 15, had a busy meeting at the H. B. M. A. with Geo. W. Crenshaw presiding. Stirring talks were made by John H. Bell, J. T. Wall, R. E. Cooper and others and much routine work was set on foot.

The Commissioners arrive here in time for a 6 o'clock dinner, details of which will be arranged, and then a public program will be carried out at the Park or in a building if the weather is bad. Committees were named for various purposes. One

CZAR HEADS RUSSIAN ARMIES

Riga Still Held Despite Desperate Attempts of Teutons to Take City.

London, Sept. 8.—The news that Emperor Nicholas had placed himself at the head of his army, which he announced in a telegram to Raymond Poincare, president of France, and the visit paid by the French commander-in-chief, General Joffre, to the Italian army, foreshadow, it is believed in military circles here, stirring events in which the armies of the allies will co-operate.

It is declared the Russians already are nearly, if not quite, holding their own against the Austrians and Germans, whose advance at most points has been stopped. In places the Russians are on the offensive.

Riga remains the danger point, but the facts that the Russians continue to occupy the town after the Germans have advanced to Dyvina, southeast of Riga, leads military writers to conclude that the Russians feel reasonably sure of their ability to defend the river and in time to push sufficiently far westward to relieve the pressure on their forces on the shores of the Gulf of Riga.

Still another battle is being fought for the triangle of fortifications farther south, of which Rovno and Dubno remain in the hands of the Russians.

The Austrians and Russians face each other across the Sereth river in Galicia, where the fighting is continuous. The stands which the Russians are making suggest that their supply of munitions is ample. A Petrograd correspondent says the ammunition shortage of the Russians has been corrected and that while the production is slow it is incessant and growing in activity and method.

For the thirteenth successive day the allies have bombarded German positions in the west, only varying their artillery activity by occasional air raids, sapping and mining operations and bomb throwing. Success rests first with one side and then the other.

Similar activity is noticed on the part of the Austro-German army along the northern frontier of Serbia, where the Teutons are strengthening their positions on the rivers Save and Danube, presumably preparatory to a new offensive movement.

A British squadron bombarded all the positions along the Belgian coast as far as Ostend Tuesday morning.

A big supply of buttons has also been purchased with the same design.

JOHNSON—Middlesboro goes under commission-government this fall and the local paper, Three States, suggests Bob Johnson as a suitable man for one of the Commissioners. Bob's Hopkinsville friends would be glad to see him honored in his adopted home.

STOCKLEY—Manager. Stockley sprang a pleasant surprise on his Princess patrons Tuesday by presenting the widely famous Civil war story, Sam Davis, prepared and filmed in Nashville some weeks ago. This story dealing with the execution of the Southern patriot soldier boy, Nov. 27, 1863, by Gen. Dodge because he refused to tell how he obtained valuable papers in his capacity as a scout. The play was staged by local people in Nashville. The story was in five reels and was intensely interesting throughout. It made a great hit in Nashville and other southern cities.

UNDERWOOD—Thos. R. Underwood, the promising young son of Editor Thos. C. Underwood, will leave the last of this week to enter the State University at Lexington, where the schooling he will take will include a course in journalism. Thomas has done local news gathering for the Kentuckian during the last two summers and has developed a genuine talent for newspaper work, inherited from his father. He has excelled in a variety of fields to which he was assigned, his reportorial work being altogether creditable. The Kentuckian's good wishes go with him and we risk nothing in predicting for him a bright future, in a profession for the duties of which nature has fitted him well.

PETERSON—Prof. W. S. Peterson is greatly pleased with the outlook for the fall session of Bethel Female College, which opens Tuesday of next week. The college building is going to be crowded to overflowing with old and new pupils and in order to make more room Prof. Peterson has rented the house of Mr. Bailey Waller, on the corner overlooking the college campus and will move his family into it this week. Mr. and Mrs. Waller taking apartments at the Pennyroyal. This will give several additional rooms for girls and some alterations in the buildings have made further additions to its capacity. Prof. Peterson has other plans for providing rooms adjacent to the college for overflow pupils.

CANSLER—Judge Polk Cansler, who went to Oklahoma, eleven years ago, has come back to Hopkinsville "for keeps." He says he went to establish his son, Charlie, in business and the young man is now a prosperous insurance man in Enid, and the "old man" felt that Rock Spring yearning in his system and here he is. His friends are delighted to have him "come back" and he will soon be keeping step with the progressive spirit of busy Hopkinsville. His plans for the future have not been announced, but the Judge long since reached a condition where he doesn't have to work unless he feels like it.

CASEY—The new Agricultural Agent for Christian county, Alexander M. Casey, of Mason county, has arrived and was busy yesterday meeting the people of the city. Mr. Casey is a middle aged man and comes with both knowledge of and experience in the duties of the position he is to fill.

COBB—It will interest Kentuckians to know that Irvin Cobb appears in the "Arab," the five-act Famous Player. Mr. Cobb is a dear friend of Mr. Edgar Selwin, who is the star in the feature, and was at the Famous Players studio when the "Arab" was being filmed, and Cobb posed and was taken in several scenes in the play.

Status of Elm Curl by Entomolo-gists of Maine Agricultural Exmigrates from elm leaf to apple is a most important one.For more than 100 years the woolly aphid has had world-wide recognition as one of the most serious insect enemies of young apple trees. Statistics based on observations made at three nurseries containing respectively about 30,000, 45,000, and 300,000 trees, showed that from 20 per cent to 25 per cent of the trees were infested by the woolly aphid. As from twenty to forty million of American-grown apple seedlings are used in this country every year, the significance of so high a percentage of infestation is at once apparent.It is, therefore, with no slight interest that the entomologists of the Maine agricultural experiment station have been seeking to ascertain a previously unknown point in the life cycle of this pest, and have made the discovery that this cycle includes three generations which are passed in what is known as the "elm-leaf curl." The disfigured and curled leaves of the elm in the spring are everywhere as familiar as the woolly masses on the apple bark, but the elm generations have not previously been known to have any connection with the apple pest, and it has all along borne a distinct that the elm generations are an essen-

Be Cut Into Mow or Stack Immediately After Being Cut.Don't overlook the fact that in order to get the best quality and most mar-into the mow or stack as quickly as possible after it is cut.Give all the machinery in connection with the putting up of this crop a thorough overhauling. Look over the mowing machine; see that everything is ready. See that all the sections are securely riveted on the sickle. Have all the sickles sharpened before you start to work. If the plates on the guards are smooth it will pay to take them off and grind them; a good edge on the guard plates is very essential.The stacker rope should be given careful attention. A considerable quantity of hay may get wet if the stacker rope gives out after a few loads go up and it is necessary to go to town for a new one. Get all these things in shape in advance, that the work once started can be pushed to the limit.PREVENT WASHING OF SOILSFrequent Crops of Clover or Grass

Which Is Plowed Under, Making Soils Spongy, Is Best.

(By E. H. FRANKLIN.)

One of the gravest problems of the farmers of today who are living on hilly lands is how to prevent soil erosion. Much of the washing of farm lands can be prevented by plowing deep, so as to make a subterranean reservoir for the storage of precipitation.
The water penetrates readily through the loose soil, and its movement through the underlying soil is very much slower than over the surface.Frequent crops of clover or grass which are plowed under make the surface soil spongy with humus and retard the washing of the soil. All hilly lands liable to wash should have a cover crop during the winter. A warranty deed will not keep the soil of theKansas Woman Helpless.Lawrence, Kan.—Mr. J. F. Stone,

When Used for Wheat.Exact Results Not Yet Obtainable—
Lime in Wood Ashes Has Marked Effect on All Plants of the Leguminous Family.

(By A. J. LEGG.)

There is an impression among the farmers generally that a fertilizer should be especially rich in potash.One cause of this is no doubt from the marked effects that wood ashes have on most soils.A liberal application of wood ashes shows an improvement in crop production on almost any soil. This is usually attributed to the potash contained in the ashes.An analysis of the ashes usually shows from four to five times as much lime as potash in the ashes, since wood ashes usually contain fromThe Nine-Bundle Shock With Single Cap.five to eight per cent of potash, 35 to 40 per cent of lime, and about two per cent of phosphoric acid.The marked effect that wood ashes has on almost all plants of the leguminous family seems to indicate that the lime in the ashes has more influence in making the ashes valuable as a fertilizer than the potash does.Last year our fertilizer dealer put in a bag of fertilizer containing ten per cent of phosphoric acid and six per cent of potash at the same price as what I was buying, which was a 15 per cent available phosphoric acid goods, on condition that I would use it on wheat and compare them side by side.I put the bag of fertilizer, which contained the potash, in my grain drill, and when it ran out I continued with the superphosphate containing 14 per cent available phosphoric acid, without changing the quantity per acre.There was no perceptible difference in the growth of the wheat during the growing season. The wheat ripened by July 25. There was no difference in the time of ripening. I could see little, if any, difference between the wheat with and that without the potash.I showed the wheat to several farmers, and all agreed that if there was any difference between the two plants, that it was in favor of the wheat where the 15 per cent phosphoric acid without potash was applied.I have not threshed, and cannot give exact results, but it is a plain case that the $3 per ton which I would have had to pay for the potash would have been a clear loss so far as results on the wheat crop were concerned.Both kinds of fertilizer were used, so that both plots extended over a dark loamy soil, with some sand at one end and a rather stiff yellowish clay at the other end.It is usually considered that a loamy, sandy soil is not as well supplied with potash as a clay soil, yet the potash did not show any improvement over

Did You Ever Stop to Consider

That an accident or sickness which destroys the use of arm or feet, or causes the loss of sight, is not only a physical calamity, but the most severe of all losses.

It Means the Wasting Away of An Estate Already Created:

the loss of any investment which is dependent upon the present or future earnings—in fact, the loss of the producing power, a disaster worse than death could bring.

Better talk it over with us to-day. Our policies offer better protection than others for the money expended.

SOURCE OF RUBBER PRODUCT

Rapidly Developing Industry Makes Countries Supplying Crude Material of Special Interest.

"Crude rubber, its source of supply and the conditions governing its progress from the source to American tire factories, have been subjects of especial interest in this country of late," said an officer of a tire and rubber company recently.

Crude rubber is a vegetable product, gathered from certain species of tropical trees, shrubs, vines and roots. It was first introduced into Europe in 1735. It was first used for pencil erasers and in waterproof cloth, and, finally, in solution, in cements. Vulcanizing or curing rubber was discovered in 1844, and thereafter the development of the industry was rapid—though the industry was but an infant in size, compared with now, up to the development of the automobile industry. Rubber can today be divided into two chief classes—wild and cultivated. These are collected from trees that have grown wild, and where there has been no cultivation process. Such trees and shrubs are found mostly in northern South America, Central America, Mexico, Central Africa and Borneo.

The finest rubber in the world has until recently been obtained from the Amazon region of South America and is known as fine Para. For over a century this rubber has been gathered in practically the same way. The native goes into the forest, selects a tree, cuts V-shaped grooves in the bark with a knife made for the purpose, the grooves being cut in herringbone fashion around the tree, with one main groove down the center, like the main vein in a leaf. The latex of the tree (not the sap) flows from the smaller veins and down the center vein into a little cup placed to receive it.

Health and Happiness Depend Upon Your Liver.

That sluggish liver with its sluggish flow of bile is what makes the world look so dark at times. Dr. King's New Life Pills go straight to the root of the difficulty by waking up the action of the liver and increasing the bile. Dr. King's New Life Pills cause the bowels to act more freely and drive away those "moody days." 25c. a bottle.—Advertisement.

Great Moment in History.

Napoleon Bonaparte had just picked up the crown of France out of the gutter. "Well, I declare," he ejaculated as he polished it off on his coat sleeve. "Here's richness! I've always felt that the man who could turn last year's silk hat into a wastebasket was something of a genius, but I'll have him beaten to a frazzle, as another great soldier will observe in a hundred years or so. I'll turn this old tile into a telephone, and address the French people through it." Whereupon he placed the bauble upon his head, and in time even as he had intimated, it became the recognized central office for all the switchboards of Europe.

A Wonderful Antiseptic.

Germs and infection aggravate ailments and retard healing. Stop that infection at once. Kill the germs and get rid of the poisons. For this purpose a single application of Sloan's Liniment not only kills the pain but destroys the germs. This neutralizes infection and gives nature assistance by overcoming congestion and gives a chance for the free and normal flow of the blood. Sloan's Liniment is an emergency doctor and should be kept constantly on hand. 25c., 50c. The $1.00 size contains six times as much as the 25c.—Advertisement.

Easier to Spell.

Young Arthur, the pride of the family, had been attending school all of six weeks, and his devoted parent thought it was high time he should find out how things were running. So he asked, one afternoon: "And what did my little son learn about this morning?" "Oh, a mouse, Miss Wilcox told us all about mice." "That's the boy. Now, how do you spell mouse?" It was then that Arthur gave promise of being an artful dodger. He paused meditatively for a moment, then said: "Father, I guess I was wrong. It wasn't a mouse teacher was telling us about. It was a rat."—Harper's Magazine.

ONE WAY TO MAKE DECISION

It Certainly Differs Widely From Modern Method of All-Round Soap Judgment.

My practice has always been, and I heartily recommend it, no matter how long or how carefully I ever have been chewing the cud of reflection, never to adopt a final determination without shutting myself up in a room for an hour or two, and then, with all the might and intellectual force which I was capable of exciting, digging down into the very depths and remotest crannies of the problem, until the process had evolved clear and distinct in my mind's eye a conclusion as sharp and cleanly cut as the facets of a diamond. Nor, when once this conclusion was arrived at, have I ever allowed myself to reconsider the matter, unless some new element affecting the question, hitherto unnoticed and unknown, should be disclosed; for if one is weak enough to get into the habit of going back on one's decision, the chances are that your faculties, being no longer so alert as when you originally took the matter into consideration, some one factor in the case acquires, according to the transitory mood or temper of your mind at that particular moment, a predominance and an importance which does not belong to it, and in this way you are led into a change of opinion which in all probability turns out to be a wrong one.—Lord Dufferin.

PROVERBS OF THE JAPANESE

Are as Quaint and Interesting as Their Works of Art That Charm All People.

It has been said that the Japanese are as apt and unique in their proverbs as they are in their works of art. What, for example, could be more appropriate to men in certain desperate circumstances than this: "Man may shout when he can no longer swim?" "While the tongue works the brain sleeps," is another saying of the Japanese, which expresses their contempt for loquacious persons.

The Japanese are quick at repartee; their wit is keen and tempered, and they can often administer a perfect snub in brief, terse form. In illustration of this there may be cited the following instance:

There was being tried in a court a case involving the possession and ownership of a piece of property. The litigants were brothers. The holder, who was clearly not the rightful owner, had assaulted and ejected his brother and was protesting his right to defend his claim.

The examining magistrate listened very patiently to him until he closed with the words, "Even a cur may bark at his own gate." Then the magistrate said: "Even a cur respects his own kin."

PARISIAN EASTER EGGS.

Three years ago the city of Paris presented the czar with a wonderful Easter egg. It was incrustated with precious stones and rested on a cushion of the finest silk. The egg was surmounted by a golden crown, in which was an almost invisible button. When the button was pressed the egg flew open and revealed a charming portrait of the czarina.

PURE MEANNESS.

"He thinks women should propose." "But what difference does it make to him, he is already married?" "Perhaps it can be accounted for on the principle that 'misery loves company.'"

ITS TROUBLE.

"The infant industry James started seemed to languish." "Yes; it appeared to have infant paralysis."

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

"Mrs. Dubwaite seems to think the suffrage rally was a big success." "I shouldn't wonder. She was the best-dressed woman there."

HORTICULTURAL NOTE.

"I see Philip is going in for intensive gardening." "You don't say!" "Yep. Raising a mustache."

Five Tragic Deaths.

Five violent deaths marked Labor Day in Louisville. Three boys, Arthur Vandewerpe, 12; John Chan, 12; and Frank Gregory, 13, members of the Louisville Corn Mill company, Floyd and B. M. Smith, were killed when they climbed into a huge corn bin at the plant of the Louisville Corn Mill company. Floyd and B. M. Smith were unaware that the bin was open on rat doors when they climbed in. The chute 45 feet below and the boys were engulfed when the shafts began to move. Although the boys were rescued in an effort to revive them, all were past when lifted from the bin. The accident happened at noon. Half an hour later Mrs. Eva Marie Newbert, 39, a widow, committed suicide by shooting herself through the head at her home, 3115 West Broadway. She was despondent because of illness. Edgar Short, aged 9, was drowned in the Ohio river in the afternoon while swimming with some companions.

HESPERIAN WENT DOWN

Torpedoed Steamer Sinks As It Is Being Towed Into Queenstown.

MUCH MAIL GOES DOWN

U. S. Government Awaits Further Information in the Case.

Queenstown, Sept. 8.—Six second cabin passengers, six third-cabin passengers and thirteen of the crew of the steamer Hesperian, torpedoed 150 miles off Queenstown Saturday, were unaccounted for last night, according to revised official figures issued by the Allan line. This brings the probable death list including Miss Carberry of St. Johns, Newfoundland, whose body is here, up to twenty-six.

The captain of the stricken liner remained by his ship until it sank. He declined to comment on the disaster for publication; hence the official statement as to whether he believes his ship was a victim of a torpedo or a mine must come from the admiralty, although the captain is quoted as having told an Allan line official today that the Hesperian was torpedoed.

Most of the survivors, passengers and crew, will leave Queenstown tomorrow by special train and boat for Liverpool.

Captain Main and the officers who remained aboard the steamer while efforts were being made to tow the liner to port, were able to save some of their effects before the ship plunged to the bottom, 78 miles southwest of Fastnet, not far from the scene of the attack, taking with her 3,545 bags of mail, much of it originating in neutral countries.

The flooding of the forward compartments, which caused the Hesperian to sink so much by the head as to throw the propellers out of the water, made the task of towing the liner to Queenstown impossible in the rough sea.

DAIRY STOCK AT THE FAIR

Lively Interest Being Shown In Breeding Cows Rich In Butter Tests.

DAIRY CATTLE IN CO. 5,000

The Progressive Farmers Will Be Satisfied With Only
The Best.

Reliable figures obtainable by the Kentuckian show that the average production of milk and butter fat per cow in this section is entirely too low. A large proportion of cows do not produce enough to pay for their feed at market prices. By better attention of cows and better methods of herding, it is possible to increase considerably the average production which would mean not only the placing of dairy farming on a profitable basis but a more plentiful supply of an important class of good products.

Dairying has now come to be of considerable importance in Christian county and wherever one farmer has been induced to adopt imported equipments and methods the influence of his example has spread in all the surrounding community.

Christian county farmers and dairymen are milking about 5,000 cows and here in Hopkinsville is an outlet for the produce of many times that number, for the local creamery offers to buy all the butter fat produced within 100 miles of Hopkinsville.

The present practice by a majority of Christian county farmers of exclusive grain and tobacco growing will lead to sure failure, for history fails to record an instance where a soil was so fertile that it could indefinitely support a system of cropping like ours and our county must yield to a system of handling which will restore to the soil most of the fertility that is removed in the harvested crop. No system of agriculture can hope to survive under methods which gradually but surely are impoverishing the soil. One of the very best as well as the most profitable ways to maintain fertility is to feed the bulk of the crop to live stock on the farm and apply the manure to the fields.

As to the kind of live stock to be used, that depends upon the preference of the farmer, adaptability to locality and the markets. In favorable years the returns for grain and tobacco farming are big, but averaged on a series of years the income is unreliable and compared with the precarious returns from this source the dairy herd yields an income every day in the year.

Kaffir, milo, sorghum and corn are most reasonably certain as a forage crop and can be depended upon, practically on every farm in Christian and adjoining counties, and when it comes to an all the year feature, we have that too for stock can run out ten months in the year. Compared with the rich dairy section of Wisconsin, where stock is housed and dried for six months in the year on land worth $200 an acre, Christian county with her many advantages in climate and cheap lands should become a richer county, for the profits are doubled.

Every farmer should establish a dairy herd, for no matter how large or how small, it will be the means of raising the standard of living and improving the citizenship because of the steady, dependable income from the sale of cream. The keeping of a small dairy herd need not interfere with the growing of many crops, and a total loss may be converted into a partial failure because of the dairy herd.

Of all the breeds of milk producing cattle, it is conceded that the pure bred Jersey is the most profitable for this country. While the breed has a most marked influence, there is also considerable variation of the individuals in each breed. It must be admitted that a large percentage of practical farmers believe they can take poor or average cows and by good feed as management, greatly increase the quantity or quality of milk produced. This is a mistake, for while the flow of milk may be increased for a short time it cannot be maintained, nor can the improvement in quality be made permanent. An increase in quantity and Buys Dog to Recover Ring.

While William A. Thompson was trying to drive a pup away from him the animal closed on his fingers and pulled off and swallowed a $200 diamond ring. Mr. Thompson was not certain what had become of the ring, but when he failed to find it, suspected the dog. He bought the animal, nominally a 10-cent pup, from H. R. Rogers, the negro owner, for $10 after much parley, took the dog home, killed him and found the diamond ring in his stomach.

He was luckier than a man in a neighboring town who owned a valuable vase, a family heirloom. His dog poked his head into the neck of the vase and it stuck. The owner cut off the dog's head to save the vase and then had to break the vase to get out the dog's head to bury it.

Defends Beckham.

The hoodlums who hissed Senator Beckham in the recent convention acted as they did because they felt they had others behind them. Yesterday the Times, in an effort by cowardly innuendo to imply something it dares not utter openly, said, referring to Mr. Beckham's bold protest against the ripper.

"The only trouble was caused by a man who was not in the convention hall when the report was made and who it required a search to find afterward. In passing, it may serve to keep the record straight to state that he was not located at the home of a friend as has been stated by some of the newspapers."

All the facts in this matter should be known in order that honest men everywhere may understand the character of the assassins' who plot day and night to injure Mr. Beckham because they can neither buy him nor coerce him.

Mr. Beckham spent the afternoon at the convention. He spent the early evening at the home of a relative in St. James' Court. Coming down town, he stopped for a talk with various friends, including several of the first citizens of Louisville, at the Seibach Hotel, and then returned to the home of his relative to spend the night.

In the meantime certain cowards in ambush at the convention had started the report that Mr. Beckham was intoxicated.—Lou. Post.

BREEDING FOR MILK SUPPLY

Breeds Improve the Thing for Which They Are Selected—Germany Makes Increase in Yield.

Cattle used to be bred chiefly for work. Therefore the cows did not give much milk. Breeds improve the things for which they are selected. If cows were used for stepladders, we should by this time have them seven feet high.

In 1730 the work cows of Germany gave an average of a pint and a half a day. Interest in milk increased, and by 1800 the average yield was a quart and a half. Breeding went on milkward, and in 1810 the German cows averaged two quarts of milk each per day. In 1820 three, in 1830 four—and there the gain stopped for 30 years.

Devon Cows.

But in 1860 the production had increased to six quarts, and by 1870 to eight.

The breeders of the trotting horse found it tremendously hard to make their steeds go any faster after the 2:10 mark was reached, and it took years and years to get below two minutes—and at about the two-minute mark in all probability the record will always stand. So with the milk cows, as the yield increased it grew more difficult to breed record breakers, or to better the average; but now the average daily yield of all German cows is said to be ten quarts.

A thousand per cent gain in a century and a quarter; that is what long period breeding will do. It is such work as this which alone will keep the world big enough for its increasing numbers of people.

HANDLE THE BULL CAREFULLY

Quiet Animal That Has Never Harmed Anyone Usually One to Attack Unsuspecting Attendants.

The bull should always be handled kindly and firmly, and should understand that his attendant is his master. It is always advisable to train the bull calf to lead, and a ring should be placed in his nose at an early date. Never permit the bull to have his own way about anything where you may differ with him and insist upon prompt obedience.

It is very easy to spoil the disposition of a bull by permitting children, old as well as young, to play with him or tease him. The man who is always prepared for trouble never has any.

It is the quiet bull that has never horned anything that usually does the damage, suddenly developing a vicious spirit and attacking his unsuspecting attendants.

Working in Salt.

If you use a barrel churn, sprinkle the salt in on the butter after you have drawn off the buttermilk and washed the butter. Then turn the churn as you do to gather the butter. You will find that you have worked in the salt more evenly than you can by the old method, and this way is easier and quicker.

Pasture Extravagance.

But one of the most absurd pasture extravagances is the feeding and tramping thereon of an unprofitable cow, for even the cleanest and best, most luxuriant pasture cannot feed profit into a cow that has missed her calling.

Water for the Cows.

Cows should be given all the pure water they can drink, not less than twice a day. It has a decided effect upon the milk production.

Know How to Raise Cows.

Better than knowing how to pick good cows out of the sale ring is knowing how to raise them.

Good Investment.

A high price for a good bull is a better investment than a low price for a poor bull.

History of the Postage Stamp.

The postage stamp came into use in the United States in 1847, seven years after Great Britain had adopted it. Five and ten-cent stamps were the first American postage stamps, and they carried the heads of Franklin and Washington. Four years later the letter rate was lowered to three cents, and in 1883 to two cents. Before the postage stamp was adopted, the postal charges were more moderate in the United States than in England. Our rates were six cents for 30 miles or less; 12½ cents up to 150 miles; 18½ cents up to 400 miles, and 25 cents for every distance over that. Hill, the discoverer of postage stamps, was knighted and received a gift of $45,000, raised by public subscription.

Every Home Needs A Faithful Cough And Cold Remedy.

When seasons change and colds appear—when you first detect a cold after sitting next to one who has sneezed, then it is that a tried and tested remedy should be faithfully used. "I never wrote a testimonial before, but I know positively that for myself and family, Dr. King's New Discovery is the best cough remedy we ever used and we have tried them all." 50c, and $1.00.—Advertisement.

Panama and Suez Canals.

The idea of the Panama canal is almost as old as the knowledge of the isthmus. Balboa is said to have suggested the big ditch after discovering the Pacific from the big hill about midway on the canal route. The Suez canal is said to have been dug originally by the Phoenicians, but after their commercial age passed it was filled up by the drifting sands. It was, of course, only a tiny waterway adapted to the oared galleons of that time.

The Next Best Thing To The Pine Forest For Colds Is—

Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey which goes to the very root of cold troubles. It clears the throat and gives relief from that clogged and stuffed feeling. The pines have been the friend of man in driving away colds. Moreover, the pine-honey qualities are peculiarly effective in fighting children's colds. Remember that a cold broken at the start greatly removes the possibility of complications. 25c.—Advertisement.

SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most economical, cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is

Paxtine

A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed. As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ills it has no equal. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." HORSES and PIGS and CATTLE

HINTS FOR SWINE BREEDERS

Squealing Hog Is Unprofitable, a Contented One Grunts—Give Pigs Plenty of Exercise.

(Dr. J. H. COFFMAN, Idaho Station.)

Keep the pens clean and dry to prevent disease among your hogs. Don't let drafts blow on the hogs—drafts are fatal to them, causing pneumonia, rheumatism and various other ailments.

If your hogs are sick or not doing well, find out what the trouble is. It will pay. A squealing hog is not profitable—a contented hog grunts. Don't keep them in too small a pen. Exercise is essential to health. Give small pigs plenty of exercise, it may prevent thumps.

Give the sow and pigs plenty of room on the sunny side of a building.

Money Makers on Any Farm.

Colony houses for brood sows are more sanitary than a central house.

If your little pigs are troubled with scours change the diet of the sow. Do not feed dirty, spoiled or sour feed. Thoroughly cook all meat scraps.

If hard bony enlargements form on the hock joints of your small pigs, the chances are that they have rickets. Introduce some new blood into the herd and feed your pigs per each 100 pounds weight a mixture of calcium phosphate pulverized, nux vomica two ounces, artificial carlsbad salts ten ounces.

For worms give five grains calomel and ten grains santonin per each 100 pounds, followed in about six hours by a bran mash or give ten grains santonin and 20 grains areca nut after a 24-hour fast.

Follow some of your hogs to the packing-house and see them inspected. It will pay in case they are tubercular.

Use plenty of whitewash around the pens. Isolate all sick hogs. Burn all dead ones.

MAKE HORSE STAND QUIETLY

Halter Twitch Is Great Aid in Handling Unruly Animals—Ordinary Halter and Tie Rope.

To handle the feet of a horse that will not stand still or that kicks, a halter twitch is a great aid. This twitch is easily applied and needs only the ordinary halter and the rope. Pass the rope over the horse's head just behind the ears; raise the upper lip and put the rope across the gums above the teeth, run the rope through the loop made by passing the rope over the horse's head. The rope should be tight from the halter ring, over the head, under the loop and through the loop. A few good pulls on this rope should make the horse stand quietly.

PROVIDE SHELTER FOR PIGS

Digestive Disorders Particularly Fatal Among Animals Kept on Alfalfa Without Protection.

Several men have reported their pigs dying of digestive disorders. This ailment has been particularly fatal among hogs that are kept on alfalfa pasture, with little or no shelter at hand.

Pigs are particularly liable to digestive disorders under such conditions, especially if cold rains occur. They should at all times be given a dry bed free from dust into which the sun can shine. If they get sick it is well to consult a veterinarian.

For Breeding Animals.

A small field of rape near by the hog yards, and a few rods of woven-wire fencing, will prove of great value in conditioning the breeding animals and young things.

WAR! What Is It All About?

HAS the whole world gone stark mad over a very foolish and trivial question? Are swords rattling, cannon rumbling, mailed armor glistening just because Russia wanted to show her love for the little brother—Serbia?

Tear aside the curtain of Europe's politics and see the grim and sinister game of chess that is being played. See upon what a slim, yet desperate, excuse the sacred lives of millions may be sacrificed. Read the history of the past one hundred years, as written by one of the greatest authorities the world has ever known, and learn the naked, shameful truth. Just to get you started as a Review of Reviews subscriber, we make you this extraordinary offer. We will give to you

FREE!

Duruy's History of the World
Four splendid cloth volumes, full of portraits, sketches, maps, diagrams

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation. Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom. Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the glory that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades through the Renaissance up to contemporary history, which Prof. Duruy completes in brilliant manner. In the story of the past lie the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a sane interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "reason why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

INFINITELY VAST AND LITTLE

They Baffle Understanding and Cause Apparent Contradictions in Scientific Facts.

The infinitely little and infinitely vast alike baffle the understanding, developed as it is by our concrete finite life. Creation is typified by the sphere. A circle is a straight line that at every point ceases to be a straight line, and the earth's surface is a plane that every moment ceases to be a plane. Following the surface of the earth does not carry us to the under side, because there is no more an under side than there is an upper side—there is only a boundless surface. But if it were possible for us to build a globe on the globe, as large as the one we inhabit, would it not have an upper and an under side?

The rain causes the grass to grow, and the sun causes the snow to melt, but we cannot apply the idea of cause, in this sense, to nature as a whole, but only to parts of nature. Gravitation caused Newton's apple to fall, but what causes the earth to fall forever and ever, and never to fall upon the body that is said to attract it?—John Burroughs, in Atlantic Monthly.

PRAISING VOCATIONAL SCHOOLS.

Vocational schools were praised by Mayor Curley of Boston at a state conference of teachers. The city executive said: "Any institution that prepares boys and girls for good citizenship and equips them with all that is needed to increase their earning capacity cannot be too highly commended. Such institutions lift men and women to a higher plane of living and solve many of the problems that confront the community."

NEEDED ONE.

"What caution was that your father gave you with your bundle of fireworks?"
"He told me to remember that fingers are something one should always keep on hand."

THE RESULT.

Jacob—You know, Esau, you asked me for my pottage.
Esau—Yes, and I made a fine mess of it.

ITS KIND.

"Will there be any profit on this beauty show?"
"Well, there ought to be a handsome one."

INTERESTED DECISION.

"The suffragists are beginning to embark on a silent course."
"That so? Then I'm going to urge Maria to join 'em."

CARRYING OUT THE IDEA.

"What kind of a hat would you get if you were I, to go with this awning-stripe dress?"
"I should suggest a shade hat."

Peter the Great.

"What Alfred the Great is to early Britain, that Peter the Great, in his crude way, is to Russia. If ever a race of people found adequate expression in one person, that race was the Slavic race in their great czar. As an acorn enfolds an oak, the type of a great forest, so Peter the Great enfolds the Russian people. Into him they have flowed from the twilight of time, and from him they have gone out to the ends of the earth. And this was one of his dreams, that his country might have ample boundaries."—From "The World Storm—and Beyond," by Edwin Davies Schoonmaker.

Primitive Life in Turkey.

Owing to the lack of building stone and almost total lack of wood of any kind in one of the interior districts of Turkey, all houses in both town and country are built of mud bricks called "kerpich," which is a mixture of mud and straw. The houses are not large and part of them is always used for the stable, one or two rooms only being reserved for use of the family, which lives in the simplest and most primitive manner. Everyone sleeps rolled up in a blanket on the earth floor.

BUKOWINA LAND OF REFUGE

Exiled Gods and People Sought Its Fastnesses When Crowded Out of Ancient Homes.

The following statement concerning the province of Bukowina, the neighbor of Galicia in the Austro-Hungarian empire, which has been figuring in the war news recently, was prepared by the National Geographical society:

Legend has it that the old gods are in exile in Bukowina. However true this may be in the case of the gods, it is true in the case of the peoples of Bukowina that most of them were there in exile. They are the Ruthenian and Roumanian tribes who were crowded out in the bitter struggles through which Europe came to its present apportionment. They, like their neighbors, the exiled gods, lead lean existences in the small, mountainous forest land which lies on the outskirts of everything.

Bukowina is an Austrian crownland, with the rank of a duchy, with a few small cities and a population of some 800,000. It presents an unobstructed frontier to the Russians, while it is cut off from the Austro-Hungarian empire by the Carpathian mountains.

Its chief city, Czernowitz, is just across from the Russian frontier. Broken spur ranges from the Carpathians further isolate much of Bukowina from its neighboring Galicia. It is most easy of access to Russia and to Roumania. The first natural difficulties which the Russians met were the interior mountain ranges, covered with forests and tangled with underbrush.

The crownland has an area of 4,031 square miles, and lies almost wholly in the Carpathian belt. Its climate is severe, and its soils, except in the larger valleys, are not very productive. There is little mineral production and no industry besides brewing, distilling and milling.

THIRD GOLD SHIPMENT ARRIVES FROM LONDON

British Cruiser Reaches Halifax with $50,000,000 in Valuables
--Commissioners Not Aboard.

Bangor, Me., Sept. 8.—The third gold shipment from London for New York arrived safely at Halifax on a warship Monday. The gold was transferred to a special train, which left for New York that afternoon. Word of the arrival of the ship was received here from an authoritative source.

The Anglo-French commission sent to America in connection with the question of American exchange, did not arrive at Halifax today, as expected. It was believed they would come on the fast cruiser Argyle, which brought the third consignment of gold and securities, probably amounting to approximately $50,000,000, from England to strengthen British credit in America. The cruiser made the trip in the unusual time of four days and seven hours.

The train, heavily guarded by employees of an express company which is responsible for the safe delivery of the gold, left Halifax at 1 o'clock and is due at Vanceboro at midnight. It is expected to pass through here at 3 o'clock tomorrow morning and, if its schedule is maintained, should reach New York late tomorrow.

As in the cases of early shipments, the censor at Halifax apparently has not permitted anything regarding the movement of the gold to be telegraphed by newspaper correspondents.

NOTED METHODIST DIVINE

Died Monday In Los Angeles,
Aged 63 Years.

Dr. Gross Alexander, book editor for the Methodist Episcopal church, south, and editor of the Methodist Quarterly Review, died suddenly in Los Angeles Monday of apoplexy. Dr. Alexander left Nashville on July 29, going to California, whence he was called by the serious illness of his daughter. He never seemed better physically and never in brighter spirits than upon the eve of his departure.

Dr. Alexander was a very useful man, and was, perhaps, the ripest scholar in the Southern Methodist church. Born in Scottsville, Ky., June 1, 1852, he was educated in the Louisville university, the Drew Theological seminary in New Jersey and Emory college, Oxford, Ga. He is survived by his wife, two sons and two daughters.

CAMPAIGN TO OPEN SEPT. 20

Hon. A. O. Stanley Will Start the Oratorical Fireworks at Glasgow on That Date.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 8.—The democratic campaign will be opened at Glasgow on Monday, Sept. 20, according to a decision reached by the state executive committee at a conference with the nominees.

A. O. Stanley, candidate for governor, and Judge James D. Black, candidate for lieutenant-governor, will be the principal speakers.

All of the democratic candidates, with the exception of Matt S. Cohen, nominee for commissioner of agriculture, were present at the meeting, over which Judge S. W. Hager, chairman of the campaign committee, presided. Each of those present made a speech, declaring without exception that harmony and enthusiasm has been found to be in evidence wherever he had visited.

Mr. Stanley attended the session after having spent a strenuous day, making one speech in the afternoon at Latonia to the democrats of Kenton and Campbell counties and another in the evening at Phoenix Hill park.

Judge Hager announced that the Glasgow meeting would be held in connection with a barbecue and all day jollification, during which all of local candidates would make talks. After Sept. 25, he said, meetings would be held in some part of the state every day up to the time of the election in November.

Save for the assignment of duties to the various candidates and a general discussion of plans, no further business of importance was transacted by the committee. Judge Hager said that other speaking dates would be decided upon and announced later.

AUTO TIRE EXPLODES

Machine Turns Turtle and Occupant Caught Under and Hurt.

As Walter A. Lackey, Jr., was coming down Main street in an auto Thursday afternoon one of the tires blue out, causing the machine to turn turtle and the youth was thrown out and badly hurt. No bones were broken, but a gash was cut near his left temple which required several stitches to close up, one hand was considerably bruised and he also sustained several bruises about the body. He was taken to his father's office for medical attention. The youngster was caught under the machine, but the auto landed partly on the concrete pavement and thus he escaped more serious injury. He had just come in from West 17th street and made the turn for Main when the accident happened. The windshield was smashed and the auto was otherwise damaged.

Many Officers Killed.

Officer casualty lists are again becoming heavy and during the period of July 30 to August 15, the British army lost 207 officers killed, 434 wounded and forty-one missing—a total of 682. This brings the aggregate casualties since the beginning of the war to 14,338 of which 4,383 have been killed or died of wounds, 8,379 wounded and 1,216 missing, the proportion of killed to wounded remaining at one to two.

Old Woman Robbed.

Burglars forced an entrance into the home of "Aunt" Harriet Newcomb, an aged colored woman about 80 years old, and the widow of Mack Newcomb, deceased, Saturday night at Providence, Ky., and choked her until she consented to turn over what money she had, amounting to $3.60.

There are opportunities now for American goods in the Caucasus region.

Two Thieves Hold Her Up in Her Own Chicago Home.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, wife of the prominent Chicago packer, and three women servants were held prisoners tonight by two robbers, who ransacked the Armour home and escaped with $3,500 in jewelry. At the point of a revolver one of the intruders forced Mrs. Armour and her three maids into a room and held them there while his companion searched the house. No trace of the two men were found by the police who were summoned.

Five Injured.

Three women were killed and two men were injured when an interurban electric car hit an automobile in a suburb of Detroit.

SIGHT RESTORED WHEN HESPERIAN TORPEDOED

Canadian, Blinded by Gas, Had Wished For Attack.

London, Sept. 6.—"All I want is now for the Germans to torpedo the ship and then I may get back my sight," were the farewell words of the Canadian soldier named Chambers, who was returning with other Canadian soldiers to his home, as he was leaving the hospital Thursday to join the Hesperian.

Chambers, as had been related, had lost the sight of both eyes through gas fumes at the front but discovered after the explosion that sank the Hesperian that he had regained the sight of one eye. Surgeons had told Chambers that a sudden shock was necessary to restore his sight and it did.
